Loans Not Available On Certificates Less Than Two Years Old

According to the recent Act of Congress, providing that loans of 50 per cent of the face value of certificates may be made, the following information is given and it is hoped that it will aid veterans in making these loans.

Many veterans are under the impression that regardless of the age of their certificates they may obtain a loan under the recent bill. In this connection you are advised that NO LOAN CAN BE MADE ON AN ADJUSTED SERVICE CERTIFICATE UNLESS SUCH CERTIFICATE IS TWO YEARS OLD.

The rate of interest to be charged on such loans as may be made will amount to 4 1-2 per cent per annum. All applications for such loans should be executed on U. S. Veterans' Bureau Form No. 1185, a supply of these notes is now on hand.

In applying for additional loans, that is to say, where a man is now asking for a loan on his Adjusted Service Certificate, and has previously made a loan on same, Form No. 1185 should be completed by the veteran. In all cases where the Veteran (continued on page two)

Residents of Cameron and this community will have an opportunity to 'visit' the great plants of the Ford Motor Company through the medium of a sound motion picture to be exhibited in Cameron Friday and Saturday March 6 and 7 presented by the Hefley-Stedman Motor Co.

They will see how coal obtained from Ford-owned mines is transported to the plants in Dearborn, Mich., in Ford-owned railroad cars; how iron ore from Ford mines and lumber from Ford forests are carried in Ford lake ships; and how in the manufacture of the car various by-products are utilized for making fertilizer, charcoal briquets, chemicals and other things.

Beside the motion picture, the show will include a number of special exhibits revealing step by step how various parts of the car are made a cut-away truck chassis, and a Tudor body cut in half to reveal the details of its construction.

NEAR HALF MILLION FROM BONUS LOANS DUE IN MILAM COUNTY

Veterans Taking Money Advanced By U. S. Government

Approximately a half million dollars will be paid to world war veterans in Milam county as a result of the congress passing the soldier's loan on bonus certificates.

According to L. Van Perkins, service officer for the Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 American Legion, there are approximately 1500 veterans in the county who are in line for a loan on their certificates. In all it is said there are 1700 who are eligible for bonus certificates.

Due to the fact that no loans will be made on certificates less than two years old from date of issuance there will be a number who cannot borrow. The average amount to be borrowed by veterans will be over $300.

Mr. Perkins with a desk in the office of the county clerk is assisting veterans in applying for the loans and hundreds are taking advantage of the opportunity to realize on the certificates.

The average over the nation, it is said will be about $500 on full certificate values.

The bonus is a gift from the government in recognition of services rendered during the world war. Each certificate is based on an allowance of $1 per day for service in the military branches of the government while in the states and $1.25 per day while in foreign countries. This amount when totaled is bearing interest, compounded for 20 years. The certificates were issued six years ago and have 14 years yet to run before maturity.

The loans obtained on the certificates bear interest at the rate of four and a half per cent. Unless the interest is paid annually on these loans it will be added to the principal of the loan and will operate against the face value of the certificate at maturity.

Veterans are warned to pay the interest or face the prospect of having their equity wiped out at the end of the 14 years to maturity date.

Channels of trade are expected to benefit at this time by the loans to veterans and due to the economic conditions a large majority of the veterans are applying for the loans.

'Madonna of the Streets' Presents Star In Role Of Dramatic Interest

'Madonna of the Streets,' the film adapted from the story 'The Ragged Messenger' by W. B. Maxwell, is coming to the Milam Theatre on next Thursday and Friday. It is a Columbia release which features the following prominent stars—Evelyn Brent, Robert Ames and Josephine Dunn.

'Madonna of the Streets' presents the talented and attractive Evelyn Brent in an extremely interesting characterization that allows her to display her undisputed acting ability. The story is about an unscrupulous woman, a character who went to every extreme to satisfy her own selfish desires and her phenomenal change in character and outlook on life when she falls in love with a man whose every thought, deed and action is noble. Against the varying backgrounds of the Barbary waterfront, a luxurious San Francisco dwelling and a modest California country cottage, this interesting tale is unfolded.

Evelyn Brent is an ideal choice for such a role. Her appearances in such productions as 'Underworld,' 'The Last Command,' 'Fast Company' and 'Beau Sabreur' have trained her in every type of characterization. She is extremely versatile. Robert Ames plays the leading masculine role. Ames has made rapid headway in the short time he has been appearing on the screen. He has played masculine leads opposite screenom's most famous women stars in the industry's most outstanding dramatic vehicles. His appearances include 'A Lady To Love,' 'The Trespasser' and 'Holiday.' John Robertson, an outstanding director, handled the production.

HUNDREDS SEE 'ROMANCE OF THE REAPER' HERE

Hundreds of farmers, school children and local residents were guests of the Cone Implement Company Wednesday at the Milam Theatre for the showing of the 'Romance of the Reaper' a film depicting Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the reaper in 1831.

Cecil Cone, manager of the company here, is elated over the response shown to his free showing of this picture.

It is estimated that the number was about 1800 to see the picture. F. S. Lesovsky, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a short talk to the farmers at the beginning of the show.

The excellent attendance at the McCormick reaper centennial celebration held by Cone Implement Co., McCormick-Deering dealer, may be taken as an indication of the interest in the development of power farming equipment held by farmers in this community.

Mr. Cone is to be congratulated for arranging a program of this kind. The full-size working model of McCormick's original 1831 reaper was interesting, both from an educational and historical point of view. The world may well honor the man whose inventive genius produced a machine so important to the advancement of agriculture.

NINE COUNTIES TO SEND DELEGATIONS HERE FOR MEET

Legion Program Made For 2 Day Meet For Vets

The Yanks are coming! Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 of the American Legion will be host here Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8 to delegates to the Sixth Texas District of the American Legion, Department of Texas.

It will be an occasion of happiness for these men of valor. They come representing a great order of American men who knew the tread of martial music and the generous order of conflict, suffered in a common cause and now advance the standard of a new civilization.

Hallowed fields, imperishable of memory, have been rich with wheat these nearly 14 years. Red poppies carpet hillside beneath which old passions sleep forever. A new generation is growing up schooled in the arts of Peace. The world forgets and it is well that it is so.

Who would remember longer the red road to Rheims or the martial trains over the roads of the Roman conquerors? War belongs to another age. Yet, always at the convening of these men, or the Eleventh Hour, of the Eleventh day of the Eleventh month, like mists of the dawn, the shadowy Legion march. They are the hosts of memory. Out of the East they come, always marching, treading the way of sacrifice.

Cameron bids you welcome and salutes you on the occasion of your convention in our midst. May you be happy. May you find here a friendly and a sympathetic understanding of the problems for which the great American Legion labors to solve in our National Life.

The program for the convention arranged by the local post is a two day entertainment. The program in detail will be found published elsewhere in this edition.

Delegates will begin arriving in the city Saturday morning. They are coming here from the following counties: Milam, Navarro, Robertson, Brazos, Limestone, Freestone, Hill, Madison and Leon.

Body of Maj. Bryant

struggle for Texas Independence by gallant conduct at the Battle of San Jacinto under General Sam Houston. He was a captain and participated in the battle, a Lieutenant under his command being killed.

After the revolution had succeeded and General Houston became the President of the Republic, Major Bryant was named Indian Agent by the general. He was stationed at Bryant Station in Milam county where he had contact with the Indian tribes inhabiting this section.

Bryant Station was then a frontier fort. It is marked now by a school building and surrounding are farms where once were the stamping grounds of wild Indians. Two simple stone markers tell the place where the noted patriot and his wife are buried. These markers will be removed with the bodies and taken to Austin. The bodies lie buried in a pasture off the highway leading to Bryant Station from Buckholts.

L. W. Kemp, brother of County Judge Jeff T. Kemp, has been interested in historical research for some years and has served his state well in locating the graves of Texas patriots.

Major Bryant was born March 15, 1800 and died at Bryant Station March 24, 1857 and buried there. His wife, Rexana Bryant was born in 1802 and died November 10, 1874. They have a daughter surviving residing at Bartlett, Mrs. Amanda Fetterly and a son in California.

T. B. Weed, undertaker in Austin will come to Milam county for the bodies.

Judge Jeff T. Kemp is interested in the ceremonies incident to the burial of these Texas patriots. People in Milam county will in all probability attend in large numbers.

School will be dismissed at Bryant Station for that day and the school will attend in a body and a motorcade will form at Cameron at the public square at 7 a. m. and proceed to Austin via Rockdale and Thornedale. The commissioners court will attend in a body and it is hoped that many other citizens of the county will be present.

Cameron especially should be represented for Major Bryant was a member of the committee appointed April 4, 1846 that selected the site of the County seat in 1846.

Executive Department

Washington, March 28, 1843
To Maj. Benj. Bryant,
Indian Agent, Etc.

Sir,
Your letters were handed to me by the Lipans and Toncahuas. I will send you farms of returns as soon as they can be prepared. It will be of some importance to have a complete census of those tribes.

I hope the commissioners will succeed in making a desirable treaty at the Waco village. If they do, I am anxious that you should cultivate sentiments of friendship on the part of those Indians toward the other tribes. I am desirous of removing every cause of excitement to the Indians on our frontier. The future prosperity of Texas only requires peace to ensure its protection.

I send you a copy of a letter which I am forwarding to you by Yonsey, a Toncahua. I am afraid he did not deliver the original. Until the country has more ability to bestow favors than at present, I am anxious that the Indians should not resort here. To those who have come contrary to my wishes, I have made small presents. I have written by them a letter to Gen. Flaco. I hope it will be interpreted to him with care. I send him four plugs of tobacco. To his wife I send 11 shawls, the mother of young Flaco, that was slain. Of his murder I know nothing, 'only it is said that Mexicans from the Rio Grande killed him.' Maj. Hays has never written to me on the subject. When I get news particulars of his death, I will write to you and you can inform his father of the facts.

If the Lipans and Toncahuas will go out to take satisfaction for his death, tell them by no means to harm women and children. The warrior scorns to hurt a woman or child, and only fights with men. I will never shake hands with a red brother that has stained his hands with the blood of women or children. He is a 'squaw' and a coward himself.

I will direct the Indians that are here to communicate to their tribes not to come to this place except upon important business that cannot be done by the Agent, and I will tell them to speak to their people. And that they are to listen to your talks and walk in the path which you point out to them. When I wish to see them here I will write to you; and you can communicate to them my desires.

You will permit no persons to trade with the Indians, nor to go amongst them without leave from you; and should you give leave to any, you will report the same to the government by the first opportunity.

I have the honor to be
your Obt. Servt.,
SAM HOUSTON.

The above is a true copy of an autograph letter from President Sam Houston to Maj. Benj. Bryant, now in possession of Jeff T. Kemp, County Judge of Milam County, Texas, which was given him by the late Sam Houston Blankenship, a grandson of Maj. Benj. Bryant.

humed next week and will be taken to Austin where on March 10 in the House of Representatives a fitting ceremony will be held and their bodies re-interred in the State Cemetery in Austin.

Former Governor Pat M. Neff, now chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas will deliver the funeral oration for the noted Texas couple who helped to make the history of the state that has known the sovereignty of seven flags.

Major Bryant, noted Texas pioneer, first came into prominence in the making application for a new loan, the pink memorandum slip which he received with his previous loan check, should be submitted with the additional loan. Notes must be forwarded to the agency or Veterans Bureau Office that has previously made a loan on a Certificate. No loan will be made by any agency of the U. S. Veterans Bureau unless the Certificate is on file in that particular office.

Original Loans—In making application for original loans it will be necessary that Form No. 1185 be completed, including the Certificate of Identification. When this has been accomplished the note, Form No. 1185 should be attached to the Certificate and forwarded to the Regional Office having jurisdiction over the territory in which the veteran lives.

It is conservatively estimated that one hundred thousand applications for loans under the above mentioned amendment to the law will be filed in the State of Texas, and it is desired to impress upon veterans making applications for loans that correspondence and other inquiries concerning the status of their loans, when they may be expected, etc., will only serve to delay the proper handling of the applications and will not tend to expedite the payment of same.

In view of the number of requests for loans, as well as the many other duties of the Veterans Bureau Offices in connection with compensation, disability allowance, hospitalization, medical treatment, guardianship matters etc., it will not be possible to give preferential treatment to any application. With much added office personnel it is hoped that the loans will be paid off at the rate of over one thousand per day. In this connection veterans who are not in dire need of funds, please wait a few days until you file your application.

We have anticipated the demands for these loans and have secured a supply of the Form No. 1185. If you desire to make application for a loan, want any information concerning any legislation or laws affecting the Veterans of the World War, please call at the County Clerk's Office and I will assist you with these matters.

am county reaching back more than a decade, Mr. Mitchell has supervised the construction of the major part of Milam county's good roads system. During this period also his engineering experience has been available on projects of major construction for the state of Texas and for other Texas counties. The people of Milam county feel that his services have been of an indispensable character at all times and will read with regret his decision to accept this place of responsibility with the government of Navarro county.

Mr. Mitchell says his services are no longer required in this county because all bond money for road and bridge construction and engineering projects has been expended. In Navarro county the people have engaged in an extensive road building program and require the services of an engineer of the experience and ability of Mr. Mitchell.

Aside from his services as county engineer, Mr. Mitchell will leave vacant a large place of service in the civic life of the community. He has been active in every good cause and his talents for leadership have been an aid to development here.

Mr. Mitchell is a graduate of A. & M. College and comes from an old family of Texas pioneers. He is a veteran of the world war and an active member of the Legion Post. A gift from Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell made possible the purchase of a site on which the post plans some day to build a permanent home. Of especial interest is his work in behalf of disabled veterans and others who saw service in securing adjusted compensation and bringing to the attention of the bureau every character of need manifested by conditions obtaining among men who served their colors in France. In all the years he has served the post he asked no compensation and in addition expended his own funds and time to assist the post and its members.

Mr. Mitchell likes his work. It is not need of employment that keeps him in touch with major construction, but a love for his profession. His interests are large and touch a variety of business and realty values in Texas. While his interests have engaged his attention to a large degree, he has found time always to serve the people of this county well and faithfully and to fill a large place of service among his friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Mitchell has a host of friends here who will sincerely regret her departure from Cameron. She has served in a large way to endeavor to her many lasting friendships and has entered actively into many phases of worthy social and civic activities. Her interests in the work of her husband has brought a wealth of stimulation to his efforts.

Mr. Mitchell will succeed a large responsibilities as county engineer of Navarro county and his talents as an engineer of state wide note will enable him to serve the people of that county in a most satisfactory way.

Cameron people will entertain the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell may in time return here to make their permanent home.

DO YOU NEED PLANTING SEED?

If so, here is your chance to get some of the best Seed that is possible to secure at all time low prices.

I still have a few of the Seed on hand from the carload that I received from H. Conrads, San Marcos, Texas, the originator, grower and breeder of Qualla Pedigreed Cotton Seed. They are some of the best-looking seed that you have ever seen. They are a very high germination test, and are all treated with Ceresan, so that you will be sure to get a good stand from them.

See me at once before the Seed I have on hand are exhausted. When they are gone, I probably won't be able to get any more. Mr. Conrad tells me that his supply is very limited, and being taken up rapidly. I guarantee these Seed to be everything they are claimed to be, and that they will give you 100 per cent satisfaction.

The next time you turn on a light in your home . . . pause . . . and look at it. Then look at the room and see if your eyes feel comfortable. If they do not, if the light hurts your eyes, your lighting arrangement is not good and should be improved.

Look at your lights and think of the impression they make upon people who come to your home. Will they be pleased with the effect of your lights upon their eyes? Will they be comfortable and at ease, or will they be irritated?

Can you read, or sew, or play games in your home without straining your eyes? Can your children study and not get tired? Or do they complain with their eyes? Watch them the next time they are studying at night. If they are holding their book close to their eyes, or if they are shading their eyes from the light, that is the danger signal which calls for better lighting for them.

Poor lighting where children study or play is dangerous because it injures their eyes for life, affects their health and their chances for success.

Look at Your Lights . . . and call us . . . we will be glad to show you how to have proper lights at little or no additional cost.

Ask us about 5 cent electricity . . . it gives you many services in your home at very low cost.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

By Will H. Mayes

Bankers Foresee Prosperity

Texas bankers in session at Galveston were unanimous in the opinion that 1930 should be an object lesson and that 1931 would be the beginning of an era of great prosperity for the entire country. If so, we should spend no time in vain regrets about the losses of last year, but should get busy to recoup them. In this the bankers can play a big part if they will. They should do their utmost, within the limits of conservative banking, to help himself. There is a feeling, somewhat justified too, that the little fellow wanting a small loan, even though he may be financially good for all that he asks, has to pay more than the big fellow who borrows in bulk. This may be good business for the bankers, but it works a hardship on the people of small means to have to pay about twice as much for money as big business pays, and when the little fellows suffer the whole country suffers. The country would be far better off if every fellow could be assured of having 'an even run for his money.'

Panhandle Prosperity

Spearman, in Hansford county, is to have a new $75,000 courthouse, a new 40 room hotel and several new store buildings. Newspaper reports are that the people of all that section of Texas feel encouraged over the prospects for a fine year's business and there is every reason why they should feel that way.

Parks and Playgrounds

About $20,000 is to be spent at San Angelo for extension and improvement of the city's playgrounds. Sunken gardens, concrete bathing pools, rustic bridges and dams, scenic walks and driveways are to be built. San Angelo has a new mayor, Hon. B. F. Lee, who has a record that indicates that he will make a good leader for San Angelo people to follow.

Southern Air Mail Hub

Dallas and Fort Worth are to be developed as the hub or distributing center for Southern air mail, with somewhat the same importance in air mail matters for the South that Chicago holds for the north. An effort is being made to improve the speed and the regularity of air mail service throughout the country and the establishment of distributing centers in Texas is a step in improvement of service.

Kilgore Building

That oil boom at Kilgore reminds those who have followed booms of the great rush at Spindletop when 'big oil' was first struck in Southeast Texas, and of the California gold boom days. It is said that the aspect of the town changes in 24 hours. There are some 2000 carpenters and other builders at work day and night to erect at least temporary quarters for the thousands who are flocking to the town. East Texas is in the throes of a thorough awakening as people are becoming rich over night.

Sawdust Concrete

Many of us can remember when cotton seed was burned to keep the cattle from poisoning themselves by eating it and there are some living who tell of times when tomatoes were thought to be useless and even a poisonous diet. Getting rid of sawdust by burning it has been the common custom in lumber districts. Now a system has been found for using sawdust instead of sand for making a light concrete, a process having been discovered for overcoming its porosity. Another boost for East Texas.

More Federal Buildings

Under the new appropriation bill for Federal buildings Texas will secure new buildings at the following places:

Atlanta $65,000; Beaumont $68,000; Big Spring $165,000; Breckenridge $140,000; Cisco $130,000; Galveston Immigration Station $375,000; Crockett $85,000; Georgetown $80,000; Harlingen $170,000; Jacksonville $135,000; McAllen $135,000; Can Benito $125,000; Memphis $80,000; Pampa $180,000; Seguin $85,000; Tyler $335,000 and Stephenville $90,000.

Remembers Goliad

The Texas senate has accepted the gift of 207 acres of land at Goliad to be converted into a State park as a memorial to the heroes who gave their lives at Goliad that the first declaration of Texas independence was signed December 22, 1835. Texas is slowly paving the way for a suitable celebration of the first 100 years of Texas independence and prosperity and it is not likely that in that celebration Goliad will be forgotten.

Buys Sewer System

San Marcos has bought the city's sewer system from private owners for $40,000 and will extend it to meet present requirements. San Marcos also owns its water system, having bought that in 1928. The city is rapidly becoming one of the most attractive resort towns of the State, and is proud to be known as an ideal 'home city.'

Raymondville Likes Onions

Raymondville is willing to let Carizo Springs have its Strawberry Festival, Cuero its Turkey Trot and other towns any special celebration they may wish just so they do not interfere with Raymondville's own 'Onion Day Fiesta,' which has attained a state-wide reputation. The dates for the third fiesta are March 26-28, which will be celebrated with an onion cavalcade, three brass bands, carnivals, rodeos, onion queens, onion banquets, confetti and other 'fixins.' Raymondville finds it pays to be distinctive in its celebrations.

Getting Out of Mud

A number of years ago Bell county spent nearly $2,000,000 for gravel and other kinds of temporary roads and now finds itself almost without roads of a kind adapted to modern uses. The gravel has gone from most of the roads and the county is back in the mud. Finding that the town is losing much of its valuable trade to other places with good roads to them, Temple citizens have started a movement to spend another $2,000,000 for a system of roads that will stand the wear of present day usage.

Houston County Roads

Houston county, Crockett, the county seat, has voted $1,450,000 in bonds for building 65 miles of concrete road 58 miles of all-weather type and topping and 18 miles of gravel roads, along with a large mileage in lateral roads. Texans in other parts of the State who may have thought that part of Texas non-progressive, have another 'think coming.' They should drive over and see what East Texas is doing and then profit by what they see.

Live-At-Home Campaigns

According to a survey made by the Dallas News, 140 counties in Texas will make crop diversification and 'Live-At-Home' the main objectives for 1931. Nothing better could be done to avoid any possibility of a repetition of the reverses of 1930. In practically every county where there are a county farm and a home demonstration agent some such purposes as these are being worked out and the people are showing more disposition to co-operate than ever before.

Money From Minor Crops

Twenty-one crops of a kind commonly designated as 'minor' crops brought Texas a revenue of $20,500,000 last year. Tomatoes led with about one-fourth of the total. Cabbage came next and spinach third. Onions, cucumbers, snapbeans and watermelons were grown in excess of $1,000,000 value each. There was over-production (or else under-consumption) of some of these, making prices too low for profits on late production, but most prices were fairly satisfactory.

Holds Fire Record

Crystal City holds the State fire record for last year, having gone through the year without a cent of fire loss. The city has a population of 6600 and has but meager equipment for its volunteer fire department. Efforts are to be made to standardize the equipment.

Marketing Association

Clyde farmers have found from experience that has been rather costly that, however much their farms may produce, farming suffers unless the crops are marketed to advantage so they are organizing an association for marketing their sandy land products.

Large Newspaper Collection

What is said to be the largest collection of newspapers in the world has been opened to the public in a newspaper museum at Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany. Among its collection of 150,000 newspapers are curiosities from all over the world, including an Eskimo paper from the middle of last century.

Farm with Profit

No wonder they cheered and threw their hats in the air! They were there to see McCormick's newfangled reaper go down the field—the first machine to reap grain successfully in all history.

Yet these people never dreamed of what was really happening there in the little Virginia wheat field in 1831. There cheap bread was given to all mankind, modern farming was born, and our present civilization began. In due time this celebrated invention was to replace all the reaping hooks, the sickles, and the cradles. On the heels of the McCormick reaper came the self-rake reaper, the wire binder, the twine binder, and finally the swift harvester-thresher. And along with them came all the other wonderful machines known to every farmer today.

The great inventor himself would be amazed if he could see the modern line-

DO YOU NEED PLANTING SEED?

If so, here is your chance to get some of the best Seed that is possible to secure at all time low prices.

I still have a few of the Seed on hand from the carload that I received from H. Conrads, San Marcos, Texas, the originator, grower and breeder of Qualla Pedigreed Cotton Seed. They are some of the best-looking seed that you have ever seen. They are a very high germination test, and are all treated with Ceresan, so that you will be sure to get a good stand from them.

See me at once before the Seed I have on hand are exhausted. When they are gone, I probably won't be able to get any more. Mr. Conrad tells me that his supply is very limited, and being taken up rapidly. I guarantee these Seed to be everything they are claimed to be, and that they will give you 100 per cent satisfaction.

Homes Without Kitchens

In this day of modern kitchens when architects are giving as much thought to the kitchen as any other part of the house, comes the home without a kitchen. The tower apartments in the new $40,000,000 Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, citadel of the gracious art of modern living are without kitchens.

Every conceivable convenience for human comfort and enjoyment are incorporated into these magnificent suites for discriminating families who prefer the pleasures of a private home without its disadvantages. All meals will be served from the many kitchens in the hotel below, where they will be prepared under direction of Oscar Tschirky—'Oscar of the Waldorf.' One piece of kitchen equipment—a gleaming white porcelain-on-steel Frigidaire—will be on duty in each apartment to keep sandwiches, drinks desserts and salads and to freeze ice cubes.

These most luxurious of American apartments occupy two lofty towers in this 47 story hotel. High above the roar of the city, they offer the quiet seclusion of a country home.

The hotel below has accommodations for 3000 guests, facilities for parties of 20 or 4000 persons, 8610 diners or 11,620 dancers.

WEAK AND RESTLESS

Georgia Lady Says She Felt Tired and Nervous.—Took Cardui, Improved.

Blackshear, Ga.—Mrs. L. E. Thornton, of this place, tells how she was benefited in a case of weakness by taking Cardui.

"I was very weak," says Mrs. Thornton. "My back gave me a lot of trouble. I felt like my back was sprained. I was very nervous and restless. I did not sleep well at night. I was so tired in my back. It seemed to hurt me when I tried to turn over."

"I did not want anything to eat. I was in bad shape."

"I thought I would try some Cardui. The first bottle seemed to ease the pain some in my back. I took another bottle, and then I felt more like eating. I noticed that I had more strength and my work seemed easier. My back didn't feel so awfully bad when I had to stand. I could sleep better and felt more rested when I got up in the morning. I took six bottles of Cardui. I certainly think Cardui is a good medicine for women."

For more than fifty years, women who had suffered, or who had gotten into a run-down, weak condition, have been enthusiastic in praising Cardui for the benefits obtained from its use.

FORD COMFORT

Every new Ford is equipped with four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without strain or fatigue. No matter how long the trip, you know it will bring you safely, quickly, comfortably to the journey's end.

The seats are generously wide, deeply cushioned and carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body. Every new Ford has specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. These work both ways — up and down. They absorb the force of road shocks and also provide a cushion against the rebound of the springs.

Other features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, Rustless Steel and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

Kaufman, Texas.—“Two years ago, I began suffering with spells of indigestion,” says Mrs. Marshall Smith, of this place. “It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I had gas on the stomach, and often my head would hurt so bad I had to lie down.”

“Everything would get black before my eyes, and I would be so dizzy when I would get upon my feet that I had to hold on to things, to walk around the room.”

“My food soured on my stomach, and I was constipated.”

“I had often read about Black-Draught, and my mother told me it was a good medicine to take, and so I began a course of it.”

“It was not long until I was feeling better. I took a pinch after meals, and I soon found I was suffering much less. It relieved constipation, and I was not any longer troubled with indigestion.”

“We try to keep it in the house, and I use Black-Draught now, whenever I feel a sick headache coming on. It is a fine medicine.”

AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM ON EMERGENCY HAY PASTURES

Hay and Pasture Needs Are Discussed By Banzhaf

Sudan grass is one of the best emergency hay crops in use. It is quite drought resistant and makes very palatable hay that is eaten readily by all kinds of livestock. In drilled or broadcast seedings it grows from 3 to 6 feet high and will generally give at least 2 cuttings of hay during the season, yielding 1 to 4 tons per acre, depending on the seasonal rainfall and the productivity of the soil.

Spring plowing is generally recommended, as it assists in warming the soil. A firm seed bed is desirable and it is recommended that sudan grass be seeded at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds per acre with an ordinary grain drill or less seed if planted in rows. The seeding date is best described as from 10 days to two weeks after corn planting time. Sudan grass does not thrive if sown too early as a warm soil is essential to its best development.

Sudan grass can be harvested for hay from the time it begins heading until seed is matured though the feeding value is greatest when cut at the time the first heads are out. The waste in feeding is greater in the late cuttings. Two cuttings of hay may be obtained, sometimes three. The hay cures quite readily, is very palatable and is as nutritious as timothy or other nonlegume hays.

Sudan grass seeded as recommended for hay will be found very useful in supplementing the regular pastures during the hot summer months. If not needed until late in the summer, one cutting of hay may be taken and the second growth or aftermath used for pasture. A good field of sudan grass will supply succulent pasturage for three or more adult animals per acre during the four summer months, if there is adequate rainfall. Sudan grass pasture is especially useful to the dairy farmer. Small acreages of this grass should be seeded quite generally in 1931 for pasture in order that the permanent pastures can be given a chance to recuperate.

Stock Yards Using Large Cotton Supply

Chicago's Union Stock Yards, to which thousands of cattle are shipped yearly from this state, offers a market for another product not usually associated with the meat packing business—cotton.

Just as one type of cellulose is used for the wrapping of candy, cigars and sundry other merchandise, so is cellulose, made from cotton linters, now used extensively as casings in the sausage industry.

The Visking Corporation of Chicago, manufacturers of synthetic casings, uses linters entirely for the production of transparent, cellulose sausage coverings, and annually purchases large quantities of chemical cotton from Southern concerns.

Specially designed equipment is required for the chemical process, which took some ten years research and experimental work to perfect, to transform the linters into cellulose tubes.

Practically unknown in the sausage making industry five years ago, cellulose casings now are used by a majority of sausage makers, among them some of the largest meat packing concerns in the country, on every type of sausage for which they are practical. Large exports are made to foreign countries.

The new development has been welcomed by the trade. For many sausage types it is no longer necessary to depend upon animal casings, most of which are imported from countries where labor is cheap and cleanliness a matter of little thought.

Use of the cotton cellulose casing is even more important to the consumer. No inferior meats may be concealed within these transparent coverings as the body of the sausage.

is always visible. Freshness may be determined by the appearance of the stuffing and the slime frequently found on the old type sausage is lacking.

The development has also made possible the skinless frankfurter. Stuffed into the cellulose casing, the meat is put through the smoking process and, when ready for packing, the 'skin' is easily removed.

Firestone has this year added more rubber to the tread which gives 20% to 25% more safe mileage before the tread wears smooth.

The Firestone Double Cord Breaker gives you SIX and EIGHT plies under the tread—spreads road shocks—lessens punctures—gives over 50% stronger union between tread and tire body which ensures longer tire life and greater safety.

Live rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber by the patented Gum-Dipping process—thus not only every cord, but every fiber within the cords, is insulated: this gives you 25% to 40% added tire life.

Iowa Brothers Set New World's Record in Ford

IOWA state officials and civic leaders witnessed the establishment of a new world's non-motor, non-wheel stop automobile endurance record recently, when Ralph and Rolland Davis, brothers, brought their Model A Ford to a halt at the east entrance of the state capitol in Des Moines after 2,775 hours and 46 minutes of continuous driving.

When Governor Hammill, standing with Walter Ferrell, executive secretary of the Iowa Chapter of the American Automobile Association, gave the signal to stop, the Ford had traveled a total of 47,138.3 miles over all sorts of roads in all sorts of weather and had exceeded by 33,680 miles and more than 2,335 hours the American non-stop endurance record which, theretofore officially recognized, was made by a much heavier car under almost ideal conditions on the Indianapolis speedway last year. In the course of the endurance run, the car, known as "The City of Des Moines," covered practically the entire state of Iowa.

Engineers who examined the Ford at the conclusion of the run asserted that neither engine nor chassis showed evidence of the gruelling strains to which they were subjected during the 116 days of continuous driving. Both apparently, according to the engineers, would have been good for another 50,000 miles or more.

'FIGHTING CARAVANS' BIG DRAMATIC WESTERN PICTURE

Gary Cooper Plays Role
With Lily Damita In
Big Film

The story of the hardy frontiersmen transporting necessities across the 1600 miles of unconquered territory lying between the Mississippi and the gold fields of California will be unfolded in a great moving picture spectacle at the Milam Theatre showing Sunday and Monday, when Paramount's thrilling drama, 'Fighting Caravans,' shows here. The part these freight trains played in history, differing from the part played by the early covered wagons, is told by Keene Thompson, who, with Edward E. Paramore, Jr., and Agnes Brand Leahy, adapted Zane Grey's famous novel for the screen.

'Fighting Caravans' can be best described as the story of those hardy old frontiersmen of 'The Covered Wagon' beating out new trails, making new history, conquering the old West,' says Thompson. 'It is a continuation of the exploits of the two beloved characters, Bill Jackson and Jim Bridger, portrayed by Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall in Emerson Hough's 'The Covered Wagon.' They are still two old scouts, but, whereas in 'The Covered Wagon' they fought off Indians for small pioneer wagons in Fighting Caravans they are performing the much harder job of protecting a caravan of huge freight wagons.

'The Covered Wagon' took place in 1848, just before the days of the Forty-Niners; 'Fighting Caravans' takes in the period around 1863, fifteen years later and just before the Civil War.

The pioneers of The Covered Wagon were purely settlers. They had heard of the wonderful new country of California with its gold and free land, and so they put 'hoop skirts' on their little farm wagons, loaded them with the bare necessities and set off across country. All these pioneers cared about was getting across to California safely and with enough implements with which to provide a living. Once in California, their wagons again became farm and industrial vehicles. Many of them struck gold and became extremely rich. They had money with which to buy such luxuries as real cook stoves. They began to settle and wanted saw mills and fire implements. They were too busy taking gold from the ground to go after those things themselves.

It remained for freighters to carry those wants to California, where prices were high, and furniture and other conveniences could be sold at prices that would make a freighter rich on only one shipment. So daring men collected huge wagons, wagons which made the covered wagons look like pigmies, with wheels seven feet high, and, into these wagons packed great cargoes. Each wagon carried tons of material and was drawn by from eight to forty-eight mules and horses.

Imagine the hardships undergone in getting such wagons across rivers, plains and mountains for 1500 miles, after the cargoes were taken off ships in Independence, Mo., and other starting points. When such a wagon struck sloppy ground and bogged down, hours were required to get it out, with as many as forty-eight mules. The cargoes were so valuable that freighters always banded together for protection from Indian raids. Scouts were hired to guide the caravans and fight the Redskins. When Indians attacked such caravans, as they do in 'Fighting Caravans,' they did so in bands of five hundred upward.

The story of 'Fighting Caravans' relates the journey of the first freight caravan out in the spring of 1863. The business was then at its height. There were no railroads (surveying for the road over the Santa Fe Trail, which the wagons in the picture take, had just begun, and wasn't completed until 1884; the railway over the Oregon trail was under way and was completed in 1869).

This Is Buying Time!

The depression bugbear is just a monkey wrench in the economic machinery. Until we remove it by buying normally and thinking normally, unemployment, closed factories and red-inked ledgers are the inevitable result. Thus, in holding back our dollars we emphasize the very situation we dread so greatly.—Pride in the community, common sense, patriotism, all urge us to buy normally.—It's not a form of martyrdom—just a simple appeal to come out of the cyclone cellar, now that the storm is over.

We, the Seventh Graders, wish to express our sympathy for Mrs. Batte and her children and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and family.

The Family Album

Let us turn the leaves of our old family album and look at the funny old pictures. There is a picture of the time I fell into the water; Uncle Lonnie fishing; my first swim; the first large fish I ever caught; the time mother took my picture when I came in from playing mud pies looking as though I had rolled in the mud; (she said I could keep it and show it to my children to show just how dirty their mother used to get); dad swimming; and oh, so many more. Many of them are funny and I have changed so much that I laugh.

—Margaret Fisher.

Watch Your Step

Whenever I get on a street car I notice the sign near the door. I read 'Watch Your Step.' It reminds me of the time I went to a picture show and as I ascended the stairs I saw the sign, 'Watch Your Step.' I had no more idea what it was talking about. Just as I stepped into the auditorium I lost my balance and fell flat on my face. It caused a great sound and interrupted the show. The sign had small print at the bottom that read, 'Be careful of a missing step near entrance.' I had not noticed the small print and ignored looking where I was stepping. I was later informed that the floor was unsound and a step was taken out to mend it. I enjoyed the show and I will always remember the sign that read, 'Watch Your Step.'

—Billy Gillis.

A Shadow On The Window

I was in the front room getting my lessons. Mamma was feeling bad and was in the big chair resting. My sister, who completed the group in the room, was writing a letter. Daddy was supposed to come home that night from Austin where he had been on business. Mamma asked me to go get her glasses because she wanted to read. I was scared of the dark then but I went anyway. As I was about to turn on the light, I looked at the door and saw the shadow of a man on the glass. A lump jumped into my throat so that I could not yell and I turned and ran back to the front room. As I was telling them what happened daddy came in laughing and asked me what was the matter and then I knew it was his shadow I saw.

—John Atkinson.

Watch Your Step

One day a man asked me if I wanted to go dove hunting with him. I was tickled to death to go. He came by for me at 3:30. I thought we would never get out to the farm that he had been telling me about. Finally we got there after about an hour's drive. The fellow who owned the farm had just caught three big rattlesnake and had them in a barrel. He told us to watch our step or a snake would bite us. He said there were more snakes on his farm than when he did lose he was not mad over it. He took it good naturedly and said he would try to win next time. This year he was awarded with a cup and was called the 'World's Greatest Loser.' He claims that he is going to take the victory cup back to England next year.

—Harold Jackson.

The Family Album

Let's take a peep with Jim as he looks through the pages of his family album.

Just look at that hat and that long feather curling around in her face. Isn't it horrible looking? My, how funny they dressed in those days. Oh, look, mother on horseback with one of her girl friends, doesn't she feel proud? Just look, six children on that poor donkey. My goodness.

Oh, here's a picture of grandmother and grandfather when they were young. Aren't they funny looking? Look, grandfather has on short knee pants! Oh goody, a few snapshots, dad is putting a bucket over mother's head!

Aw gee, there's mother calling me to bed, guess I better put it up for tonight.

Beside the motion picture, the show will include a number of special exhibits revealing step by step how various parts of the car are made a cut-away truck chassis, and a Tudor body cut in half to reveal the details of its construction.

A feature of the show will be a display of the full line of Ford passenger and commercial cars.

NEAR HALF MILLION FROM BONUS LOANS DUE IN MILAM COUNTY

Veterans Taking Money
Advanced By U. S.
Government

Approximately a half million dollars will be paid to world war veterans in Milam county as a result of the congress passing the soldier's loan on bonus certificates.

According to L. Van Perkins, service officer for the Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 American Legion, there are approximately 1500 veterans in the county who are in line for a loan on their certificates. In all it is said there are 1700 who are eligible for bonus certificates.

Due to the fact that no loans will be made on certificates less than two years old from date of issuance there will be a number who cannot borrow. The average amount to be borrowed by veterans will be over $300.

Mr. Perkins with a desk in the office of the county clerk is assisting veterans in applying for the loans and hundreds are taking advantage of the opportunity to realize on the certificates.

The average over the nation, it is said will be about $500 on full certificate values.

The bonus is a gift from the government in recognition of services rendered during the world war. Each certificate is based on an allowance of $1 per day for service in the military branches of the government while in the states and $1.25 per day while in foreign countries. This amount when totaled is bearing interest, compounded for 20 years. The certificates were issued six years ago and have 14 years yet to run before maturity.

The loans obtained on the certificates bear interest at the rate of four and a half per cent. Unless the interest is paid annually on these loans it will be added to the principal of the loan and will operate against the face value of the certificate at maturity.

Veterans are warned to pay the interest or face the prospect of having their equity wiped out at the end of the 14 years to maturity date.

Channels of trade are expected to benefit at this time by the loans to veterans and due to the economic conditions a large majority of the veterans are applying for the loans.

HUNDREDS SEE 'ROMANCE OF THE REAPER' HERE

Hundreds of farmers, school children and local residents were guests of the Cone Implement Company Wednesday at the Milam Theatre for the showing of the 'Romance of the Reaper' a film depicting Cyrus Hall McCormick, inventor of the reaper in 1831.

Cecil Cone, manager of the company here, is elated over the response shown to his free showing of this picture.

It is estimated that the number was about 1800 to see the picture. F. S. Lesovsky, president of the Chamber of Commerce, made a short talk to the farmers at the beginning of the show.

The excellent attendance at the McCormick reaper centennial celebration held by Cone Implement Co., McCormick-Deering dealer, may be taken as an indication of the interest in the development of power farming equipment held by farmers in this community.

Mr. Cone is to be congratulated for arranging a program of this kind. The full-size working model of McCormick's original 1831 reaper was interesting, both from an educational and historical point of view. The world may well honor the man whose inventive genius produced a machine so important to the advancement of agriculture.

NINE COUNTIES TO SEND DELEGATIONS HERE FOR MEET

Legion Program Made
For 2 Day Meet
For Vets

The Yanks are coming! Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 of the American Legion will be host here Saturday and Sunday, March 7 and 8 to delegates to the Sixth Texas District of the American Legion, Department of Texas.

It will be an occasion of happiness for these men of valor. They come representing a great order of American men who knew the tread of martial music and the generous order of conflict, suffered in a common cause and now advance the standard of a new civilization.

Hallowed fields, imperishable of memory, have been rich with wheat these nearly 14 years. Red poppies carpet hillside beneath which old passions sleep forever. A new generation is growing up schooled in the arts of Peace. The world forgets and it is well that it is so.

Who would remember longer the red road to Rheims or the martial trains over the roads of the Roman conquerors? War belongs to another age. Yet, always at the convening of these men, or the Eleventh Hour, of the Eleventh day of the Eleventh month, like mists of the dawn, the shadow Legion march. They are the hosts of memory. Out of the East they come, always marching, treading the way of sacrifice.

Cameron bids you welcome and salutes you on the occasion of your convention in our midst. May you be happy. May you find here a friendly and a sympathetic understanding of the problems for which the great American Legion labors to solve in our National Life.

The program for the convention arranged by the local post is a two day entertainment. The program in detail will be found published elsewhere in this edition.

Delegates will begin arriving in the city Saturday morning. They are coming here from the following counties: Milam, Navarro, Robertson, Brazos, Limestone, Freestone, Hill, Madison and Leon.

struggle for Texas Independence by gallant conduct at the Battle of San Jacinto under General Sam Houston. He was a captain and participated in the battle, a Lieutenant under his command being killed.

After the revolution had succeeded and General Houston became the President of the Republic, Major Bryant was named Indian Agent by the general. He was stationed at Bryant Station in Milam county where he had contact with the Indian tribes inhabiting this section.

Bryant Station was then a frontier fort. It is marked now by a school building and surrounding are farms where once were the stamping grounds of wild Indians. Two simple stone markers tell the place where the noted patriot and his wife are buried. These markers will be removed with the bodies and taken to Austin. The bodies lie buried in a pasture off the highway leading to Bryant Station from Buckholts.

L. W. Kemp, brother of County Judge Jeff T. Kemp, has been interested in historical research for some years and has served his state well in locating the graves of Texas patriots.

Major Bryant was born March 15, 1800 and died at Bryant Station March 24, 1857 and buried there. His wife, Rexana Bryant was born in 1802 and died November 10, 1874. They have a daughter surviving residing at Bartlett, Mrs. Amanda Fetterly and a son in California.

T. B. Weed, undertaker in Austin will come to Milam county for the bodies.

Judge Jeff T. Kemp is interested in the ceremonies incident to the burial of these Texas patriots. People in Milam county will in all probability attend in large numbers.

School will be dismissed at Bryant Station for that day and the school will attend in a body and a motorcade will form at Cameron at the public square at 7 a. m. and proceed to Austin via Rockdale and Thornedale. The commissioners court will attend in a body and it is hoped that many other citizens of the county will be present.

Cameron especially should be represented for Major Bryant was a member of the committee appointed April 4, 1846 that selected the site of the County seat in 1846.

Executive Department

Washington, March 28, 1843
To Maj. Benj. Bryant,
Indian Agent, Etc.
Sir,

Your letters were handed to me by the Lipans and Toncahuas. I will send you farms of returns as soon as they can be prepared. It will be of some importance to have a complete census of those tribes.

I hope the commissioners will succeed in making a desirable treaty at the Waco village. If they do, I am anxious that you should cultivate sentiments of friendship on the part of those Indians toward the other tribes. I am desirous of removing every cause of excitement to the Indians on our frontier. The future prosperity of Texas only requires peace to ensure its protection.

I send you a copy of a letter which I am forwarding to you by Yonsey, a Toncagua. I am afraid he did not deliver the original. Until the country has more ability to bestow favors than at present, I am anxious that the Indians should not resort here. To those who have come contrary to my wishes, I have made small presents. I have written by them a letter to Gen. Flaco. I hope it will be interpreted to him with care. I send him four plugs of tobacco. To his wife I send 11 shawls, the mother of young Flaco, that was slain. Of his murder I know nothing, 'only it is said that Mexicans from the Rio Grande killed him.' Maj. Hays has never written to me on the subject. When I get news particulars of his death, I will write to you and you can inform his father of the facts.

If the Lipans and Toncahuas will go out to take satisfaction for his death, tell them by no means to harm women and children. The warrior scorns to hurt a woman or child, and only fights with men. I will never shake hands with a red brother that has stained his hands with the blood of women or children. He is a 'squaw' and a coward himself.

I will direct the Indians that are here to communicate to their tribes not to come to this place except upon important business that cannot be done by the Agent, and I will tell them to speak to their people. And that they are to listen to your talks and walk in the path which you point out to them. When I wish to see them here I will write to you; and you can communicate to them my desires.

You will permit no persons to trade with the Indians, nor to go amongst them without leave from you; and should you give leave to any, you will report the same to the government by the first opportunity.

I have the honor to be
your Obt. Servt.,
SAM HOUSTON.

The above is a true copy of an autograph letter from President Sam Houston to Maj. Benj. Bryant, now in possession of Jeff T. Kemp, County Judge of Milam County, Texas, which was given him by the late Sam Houston Blankenship, a grandson of Maj. Benj. Bryant.

homed next week and will be taken to Austin where on March 10 in the House of Representatives a fitting ceremony will be held and their bodies re-interred in the State Cemetery in Austin.

Former Governor Pat M. Neff, now chairman of the Railroad Commission of Texas will deliver the funeral oration for the noted Texas couple who helped to make the history of the state that has known the sovereignty of seven flags.

Major Bryant, noted Texas pioneer, first came into prominence in the making application for a new loan, the pink memorandum slip which he received with his previous loan check, should be submitted with the additional loan. Notes must be forwarded to the agency or Veterans Bureau Office that has previously made a loan on a Certificate. No loan will be made by any agency of the U. S. Veterans Bureau unless the Certificate is on file in that particular office.

Original Loans—In making application for original loans it will be necessary that Form No. 1185 be completed, including the Certificate of Identification. When this has been accomplished the note, Form No. 1185 should be attached to the Certificate and forwarded to the Regional Office having jurisdiction over the territory in which the veteran lives.

It is conservatively estimated that one hundred thousand applications for loans under the above mentioned amendment to the law will be filed in the State of Texas, and it is desired to impress upon veterans making applications for loans that correspondence and other inquiries concerning the status of their loans, when they may be expected, etc., will only serve to delay the proper handling of the applications and will tend to expedite the payment of same.

In view of the number of requests for loans, as well as the many other duties of the Veterans Bureau Offices in connection with compensation, disability allowance, hospitalization, medical treatment, guardianship matters etc., it will not be possible to give preferential treatment to any application. With much added office personnel it is hoped that the loans will be paid off at the rate of over one thousand per day. In this connection veterans who are not in dire need of funds, please wait a few days until you file your application.

We have anticipated the demands for these loans and have secured a supply of the Form No. 1185. If you desire to make application for a loan, want any information concerning any legislation or laws affecting the Veterans of the World War, please call at the County Clerk's Office and I will assist you with these matters.

am county reaching back more than a decade, Mr. Mitchell has supervised the construction of the major part of Milam county's good roads system. During this period also his engineering experience has been available on projects of major construction for the state of Texas and for other Texas counties. The people of Milam county feel that his services have been of an indispensable character at all times and will read with regret his decision to accept this place of responsibility with the government of Navarro county.

Mr. Mitchell says his services are no longer required in this county because all bond money for road and bridge construction and engineering projects has been expended. In Navarro county the people have engaged in an extensive road building program and require the services of an engineer of the experience and ability of Mr. Mitchell.

Aside from his services as county engineer, Mr. Mitchell will leave vacant a large place of service in the civic life of the community. He has been active in every good cause and his talents for leadership have been an aid to development here.

Mr. Mitchell is a graduate of A. & T. College and comes from an old family of Texas pioneers. He is a veteran of the world war and an active member of the Legion Post. A gift from Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell made possible the purchase of a site on which the post plans some day to build a permanent home. Of especial interest is his work in behalf of disabled veterans and others who saw service in securing adjusted compensation and bringing to the attention of the bureau every character of need manifested by conditions obtaining among men who served their colors in France. In all the years he has served the post he asked no compensation and in addition expended his own funds and time to assist the post and its members.

Mr. Mitchell likes his work. It is not need of employment that keeps him in touch with major construction, but a love for his profession. His interests are large and touch a variety of business and realty values in Texas. While his interests have engaged his attention to a large degree, he has found time always to serve the people of this county well and faithfully and to fill a large place of service among his friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Mitchell has a host of friends here who will sincerely regret her departure from Cameron. She has served in a large way to endear to her many lasting friendships and has entered actively into many phases of worthy social and civic activities. Her interests in the work of her husband has brought a wealth of stimulation to his efforts.

Mr. Mitchell will succeed a large responsibilities as county engineer of Navarro county and his talents as an engineer of state wide note will enable him to serve the people of that county in a most satisfactory way.

Cameron people will entertain the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell may in time return here to make their permanent home.

DO YOU NEED PLANTING SEED?

If so, here is your chance to get some of the best Seed that is possible to secure at all time low prices.

I still have a few of the Seed on hand from the carload that I received from H. Conrads, San Marcos, Texas, the originator, grower and breeder of Qualla Pedigreed Cotton Seed. They are some of the best-looking seed that you have ever seen. They are a very high germination test, and are all treated with Ceresan, so that you will be sure to get a good stand from them.

See me at once before the Seed I have on hand are exhausted. When they are gone, I probably won't be able to get any more. Mr. Conrad tells me that his supply is very limited, and being taken up rapidly. I guarantee these Seed to be everything they are claimed to be, and that they will give you 100 per cent satisfaction.

The next time you turn on a light in your home . . . pause . . . and look at it. Then look at the room and see if your eyes feel comfortable. If they do not, if the light hurts your eyes, your lighting arrangement is not good and should be improved.

Look at your lights and think of the impression they make upon people who come to your home. Will they be pleased with the effect of your lights upon their eyes? Will they be comfortable and at ease, or will they be irritated?

Can you read, or sew, or play games in your home without straining your eyes? Can your children study and not get tired? Or do they complain with their eyes? Watch them the next time they are studying at night. If they are holding their book close to their eyes, or if they are shading their eyes from the light, that is the danger signal which calls for better lighting for them.

Poor lighting where children study or play is dangerous because it injures their eyes for life, affects their health and their chances for success.

Look at Your Lights . . . and call us . . . we will be glad to show you how to have proper lights at little or no additional cost.

TEXAS AND TEXANS

By Will H. Mayes

Bankers Foresee Prosperity

Texas bankers in session at Galveston were unanimous in the opinion that 1930 should be an object lesson and that 1931 would be the beginning of an era of great prosperity for the entire country. If so, we should spend no time in vain regrets about the losses of last year, but should get busy to recoup them. In this the bankers can play a big part if they will. They should do their utmost, within the limits of conservative banking, to help himself. There is a feeling, somewhat justified too, that the little fellow wanting a small loan, even though he may be financially good for all that he asks, has to pay more than the big fellow who borrows in bulk. This may be good business for the bankers, but it works a hardship on the people of small means to have to pay about twice as much for money as big business pays, and when the little fellows suffer the whole country suffers. The country would be far better off if every fellow could be assured of having 'an even run for his money.'

Panhandle Prosperity

Spearman, in Hansford county, is to have a new $75,000 courthouse, a new 40 room hotel and several new store buildings. Newspaper reports are that the people of all that section of Texas feel encouraged over the prospects for a fine year's business and there is every reason why they should feel that way.

Parks and Playgrounds

About $20,000 is to be spent at San Angelo for extension and improvement of the city's playgrounds. Sunken gardens, concrete bathing pools, rustic bridges and dams, scenic walks and driveways are to be built. San Angelo has a new mayor, Hon. B. F. Lee, who has a record that indicates that he will make a good leader for San Angelo people to follow.

Southern Air Mail Hub

Dallas and Fort Worth are to be developed as the hub or distributing center for Southern air mail, with somewhat the same importance in air mail matters for the South that Chicago holds for the north. An effort is being made to improve the speed and the regularity of air mail service throughout the country and the establishment of distributing centers in Texas is a step in improvement of service.

Kilgore Building

That oil boom at Kilgore reminds those who have followed booms of the great rush at Spindletop when 'big oil' was first struck in Southeast Texas, and of the California gold boom days. It is said that the aspect of the town changes in 24 hours. There are some 2000 carpenters and other builders at work day and night to erect at least temporary quarters for the thousands who are flocking to the town. East Texas is in the throes of a thorough awakening as people are becoming rich overnight.

Sawdust Concrete

Many of us can remember when cotton seed was burned to keep the cattle from poisoning themselves by eating it and there are some living who tell of times when tomatoes were thought to be useless and even a poisonous diet. Getting rid of sawdust by burning it has been the common custom in lumber districts. Now a system has been found for using sawdust instead of sand for making a light concrete, a process having been discovered for overcoming its porosity. Another boost for East Texas.

More Federal Buildings

Under the new appropriation bill for Federal buildings Texas will secure new buildings at the following places:

Atlanta $65,000; Beaumont $680,000; Big Spring $165,000; Breckenridge $140,000; Cisco $130,000; Galveston Immigration Station $375,000; Crockett $85,000; Georgetown $80,000; Harlingen $170,000; Jacksonville $135,000; McAllen $135,000; Can Benito $125,000; Memphis $80,000; Pampa $180,000; Seguin $85,000; Tyler $335,000 and Stephenville $90,000.

Remembers Goliad

The Texas senate has accepted the gift of 207 acres of land at Goliad to be converted into a State park as a memorial to the heroes who gave their lives at Goliad that the first declaration of Texas independence was signed December 22, 1835. Texas is slowly paving the way for a suitable celebration of the first 100 years of Texas independence and prosperity and it is not likely that in that celebration Goliad will be forgotten.

Buys Sewer System

San Marcos has bought the city's sewer system from private owners for $40,000 and will extend it to meet present requirements. San Marcos also owns its water system, having bought that in 1928. The city is rapidly becoming one of the most attractive resort towns of the State, and is proud to be known as an ideal 'home city.'

Raymondville Likes Onions

Raymondville is willing to let Carrizo Springs have its Strawberry Festival, Cuero its Turkey Trot and other towns any special celebration they may wish just so they do not interfere with Raymondville's own 'Onion Day Fiesta,' which has attained a state-wide reputation. The dates for the third fiesta are March 26-28, which will be celebrated with an onion cavalcade, three brass bands carnivals, rodeos, onion queens, onion banquets, confetti and other 'fixins.' Raymondville finds it pays to be distinctive in its celebrations.

Getting Out of Mud

A number of years ago Bell county spent nearly $2,000,000 for gravel and other kinds of temporary roads and now finds itself almost without roads of a kind adapted to modern uses. The gravel has gone from most of the roads and the county is back in the mud. Finding that the town is losing much of its valuable trade to other places with good roads to them, Temple citizens have started a movement to spend another $2,000,000 for a system of roads that will stand the wear of present day usage.

Houston County Roads

Houston county, Crockett, the county seat, has voted $1,450,000 in bonds for building 65 miles of concrete road 58 miles of all-weather type and topping and 18 miles of gravel roads, along with a large mileage in lateral roads. Texans in other parts of the State who may have thought that part of Texas non-progressive, have another 'think coming.' They should drive over and see what East Texas is doing and then profit by what they see.

Live-At-Home Campaigns

According to a survey made by the Dallas News, 140 counties in Texas will make crop diversification and 'Live-At-Home' the main objectives for 1931. Nothing better could be done to avoid any possibility of a repetition of the reverses of 1930. In practically every county where there are a county farm and a home demonstration agent some such purposes as these are being worked out and the people are showing more disposition to co-operate than ever before.

Money From Minor Crops

Twenty-one crops of a kind commonly designated as 'minor crops' brought Texas a revenue of $20,500,000 last year. Tomatoes led with about one-fourth of the total. Cabbage came next and spinach third. Onions, cucumbers, snapbeans and watermelons were grown in excess of $1,000,000 value each. There was over-production (or else under-consumption) of some of these, making prices too low for profits on late production, but most prices were fairly satisfactory.

Holds Fire Record

Crystal City holds the State fire record for last year, having gone through the year without a cent of fire loss. The city has a population of 6600 and has but meager equipment for its volunteer fire department. Efforts are to be made to standardize the equipment.

Marketing Association

Clyde farmers have found from experience that has been rather costly that, however much their farms may produce, farming suffers unless the crops are marketed to advantage so they are organizing an association for marketing their sandy land products.

Large Newspaper Collection

What is said to be the largest collection of newspapers in the world has been opened to the public in a newspaper museum at Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany. Among its collection of 150,000 newspapers are curiosities from all over the world, including an Eskimo paper from the middle of last century.

Let McCormick-Deering Machines

Help You to
Farm with Profit

No wonder they cheered and threw their hats in the air! They were there to see McCormick's newfangled reaper go down the field—the first machine to reap grain successfully in all history.

Yet these people never dreamed of what was really happening there in the little Virginia wheat field in 1831. There cheap bread was given to all mankind, modern farming was born, and our present civilization began. In due time this celebrated invention was to replace all the reaping hooks, the sickles, and the cradles. On the heels of the McCormick reaper came the self-rake reaper, the wire binder, the twine binder, and finally the swift harvester-thresher. And along with them came all the other wonderful machines known to every farmer today.

The great inventor himself would be amazed if he could see the modern lineup of McCormick-Deering Machines. These are the machines we are proud to offer you in this year of the Reaper Centennial. They are descendants of the reaper, growing out of the century-old experience in manufacture that has helped lift the American farmer far above the farming standards of other lands.

Labor-saving tractor power and machines are necessary to success now as never before. Go over your own implements; cull out the inefficient ones. Plan your work with great care, cut your costs at every turn, and let fast-working equipment show you what it can do. We invite you to come in and look over any of the new machines without obligation at any time.

Homes Without Kitchens

In this day of modern kitchens when architects are giving as much thought to the kitchen as any other part of the house, comes the home without a kitchen. The tower apartments in the new $40,000,000 Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, citadel of the gracious art of modern living are without kitchens.

Every conceivable convenience for human comfort and enjoyment are incorporated into these magnificent suites for discriminating families who prefer the pleasures of a private home without its disadvantages. All meals will be served from the many kitchens in the hotel below, where they will be prepared under direction of Oscar Tschirky—"Oscar" of the Waldorf. One piece of kitchen equipment—a gleaming white porcelain-on-steel Frigidaire—will be on duty in each apartment to keep sandwiches, drinks, desserts and salads and to freeze ice cubes.

These most luxurious of American apartments occupy two lofty towers in this 47 story hotel. High above the roar of the city, they offer the quiet seclusion of a country home.

The hotel below has accommodations for 3000 guests, facilities for parties of 20 or 4000 persons, 8610 diners or 11,630 dancers.

FORD COMFORT

Every new Ford is equipped with four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers

ONE of the fine things about driving the new Ford is the way it takes you over the miles without strain or fatigue. No matter how long the trip, you know it will bring you safely, quickly, comfortably to the journey's end.

The seats are generously wide, deeply cushioned and carefully designed to conform to the curves of the body. Every new Ford has specially designed springs and four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers. These work both ways — up and down. They absorb the force of road shocks and also provide a cushion against the rebound of the springs.

Other features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, Rustless Steel and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of the low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation and up-keep, and low yearly depreciation.

WEAK AND RESTLESS

Georgia Lady Says She Felt Tired and Nervous.—Took Cardui, Improved.

Blackshear, Ga.—Mrs. L. E. Thornton, of this place, tells how she was benefited in a case of weakness by taking Cardui.

"I was very weak," says Mrs. Thornton. "My back gave me a lot of trouble. I felt like my back was sprained. I was very nervous and restless. I did not sleep well at night. I was so tired in my back. It seemed to hurt me when I tried to turn over."

"I did not want anything to eat. I was in bad shape."

"I thought I would try some Cardui. The first bottle seemed to ease the pain some in my back. I took another bottle, and then I felt more strength and my work seemed easier. My back didn't feel so awfully bad when I had to stand. I could sleep better and felt more rested when I got up in the morning. I took six bottles of Cardui. I certainly think Cardui is a good medicine for women."

For more than fifty years, women who had suffered, or who had gotten into a run-down, weak condition, have been enthusiastic in praising Cardui for the benefits obtained from its use.

Try Cardui in your case.

SOUR STOMACH

Gas Formed, Head Hurt, and Woman Had To Hold To Things When She Walked.

Kaufman, Texas.—"Two years ago, I began suffering with spells of indigestion," says Mrs. Marshall Smith, of this place. "It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. I had gas on the stomach, and often my head would hurt so bad I had to lie down."

"Everything would get black before my eyes, and I would be so dizzy when I would get upon my feet that I had to hold on to things, to walk around the room."

"My food soured on my stomach, and I was constipated."

"I had often read about Black-Draught, and my mother told me it was a good medicine to take, and so I began a course of it."

"It was not long until I was feeling better. I took a pinch after meals, and I soon found I was suffering much less. It relieved constipation, and I was not any longer troubled with indigestion."

"We try to keep it in the house, and I use Black-Draught now, whenever I feel a sick headache coming on. It is a fine medicine."

Thedford's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery. 40-237

AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM ON EMERGENCY HAY PASTURES

Hay and Pasture Needs Are Discussed By Banzhaf

Sudan grass is one of the best emergency hay crops in use. It is quite drought resistant and makes very palatable hay that is eaten readily by all kinds of livestock. In drilled or broadcast seedings it grows from 3 to 6 feet high and will generally give at least 2 cuttings of hay during the season, yielding 1 to 4 tons per acre, depending on the seasonal rainfall and the productiveness of the soil.

Spring plowing is generally recommended, as it assists in warming the soil. A firm seed bed is desirable and it is recommended that sudan grass be seeded at the rate of 20 to 25 pounds per acre with an ordinary grain drill or less seed if planted in rows. The seeding date is best described as from 10 days to two weeks after corn planting time. Sudan grass does not thrive if sown too early as a warm soil is essential to its best development.

Sudan grass can be harvested for hay from the time it begins heading until seed is matured though the feeding value is greatest when cut at the time the first heads are out. The waste in feeding is greater in the late cuttings. Two cuttings of hay may be obtained, sometimes three. The hay cures quite readily, is very palatable and is as nutritious as timothy or other nonlegume hays.

Sudan grass seeded as recommended for hay will be found very useful in supplementing the regular pastures during the hot summer months. If not needed until late in the summer, one cutting of hay may be taken and the second growth or aftermath used for pasture. A good field of sudan grass will supply succulent pasturage for three or more adult animals per acre during the four summer months, if there is adequate rainfall. Sudan grass pasture is especially useful to the dairy farmer. Small acreages of this grass should be seeded quite generally in 1931 for pasture in order that the permanent pastures can be given a chance to recuperate.

Stock Yards Using Large Cotton Supply

Chicago's Union Stock Yards, to which thousands of cattle are shipped yearly from this state, offers a market for another product not usually associated with the meat packing business—cotton.

Just as one type of cellulose is used for the wrapping of candy, cigars and sundry other merchandise, so is cellulose, made from cotton linters, now used extensively as casings in the sausage industry.

The Visking Corporation of Chicago, manufacturers of synthetic casings, uses linters entirely for the production of transparent, cellulose sausage coverings, and annually purchases large quantities of chemical cotton from Southern concerns.

Specially designed equipment is required for the chemical process, which took some ten years research and experimental work to perfect, to transform the linters into cellulose tubes.

Practically unknown in the sausage making industry five years ago, cellulose casings now are used by a majority of sausage makers, among them some of the largest meat packing concerns in the country, on every type of sausage for which they are practical. Large exports are made to foreign countries.

The new development has been welcomed by the trade. For many sausage types it is no longer necessary to depend upon animal casings, most of which are imported from countries where labor is cheap and cleanliness a matter of little thought.

Use of the cotton cellulose casing is even more important to the consumer. No inferior meats may be concealed within these transparent coverings as the body of the sausage is always visible. Freshness may be determined by the appearance of the stuffing and the slime frequently found on the old type sausage is lacking.

The development has also made possible the skinless frankfurter. Stuffed into the cellulose casing, the meat is put through the smoking process and, when ready for packing, the 'skin' is easily removed.

Firestone has this year added more rubber to the tread which gives 20% to 25% more safe mileage before the tread wears smooth.

The Firestone Double Cord Breaker gives you SIX and EIGHT plies under the tread—spreads road shocks—lessens punctures—gives over 50% stronger union between tread and tire body which ensures longer tire life and greater safety.

Live rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber by the patented Gum-Dipping process—thus not only every cord, but every fiber within the cords, is insulated: this gives you 25% to 40% added tire life.

Iowa Brothers Set New World's Record in Ford

IOWA state officials and civic leaders witnessed the establishment of a new world's non-motor, non-wheel stop automobile endurance record recently, when Ralph and Rolland Davis, brothers, brought their Model A Ford to a halt at the east entrance of the state capitol in Des Moines after 2,775 hours and 45 minutes of continuous driving.

When Governor Hammill, standing with Walter Ferrell, executive secretary of the Iowa Chapter of the American Automobile Association, gave the signal to stop, the Ford had traveled a total of 47,138.3 miles over all sorts of roads in all sorts of weather and had exceeded by 33,680 miles and more than 2,335 hours the American non-stop endurance record which, theretofore officially recognized, was made by a much heavier car under almost ideal conditions on the Indianapolis speedway last year. In the course of the endurance run, the car, known as "The City of Des Moines," covered practically the entire state of Iowa. Engineers who examined the Ford at the conclusion of the run asserted that neither engine nor chassis showed evidence of the gruelling strains to which they were subjected during the 116 days of continuous driving. Both apparently, according to the engineers, would have been good for another 50,000 miles or more.

Remove that Monkey Wrench!

This Is Buying Time!

The depression bugbear is just a monkey wrench in the economic machinery. Until we remove it by buying normally and thinking normally, unemployment, closed factories and red-inked ledgers are the inevitable result. Thus, in holding back our dollars we emphasize the very situation we dread so greatly.—Pride in the community, common sense, patriotism, all urge us to buy normally.—It's not a form of martyrdom—just a simple appeal to come out of the cyclone cellar, now that the storm is over.

Big Film

The story of the hardy frontiersmen transporting necessities across the 1600 miles of unconquered territory lying between the Mississippi and the gold fields of California will be unfolded in a great moving picture spectacle at the Milam Theatre showing Sunday and Monday, when Paramount's thrilling drama, 'Fighting Caravans,' shows here. The part these freight trains played in history, differing from the part played by the early covered wagons, is told by Keene Thompson, who, with Edward E. Paramore, Jr., and Agnes Brand Leahy, adapted Zane Grey's famous novel for the screen.

'Fighting Caravans' can be best described as the story of those hardy old frontiersmen of 'The Covered Wagon' beating out new trails, making new history, conquering the old West says Thompson. 'It is a continuation of the exploits of the two beloved characters, Bill Jackson and Jim Bridger, portrayed by Ernest Torrence and Tully Marshall in Emerson Hough's 'The Covered Wagon.' They are still two old scouts, but, whereas in 'The Covered Wagon' they fought off Indians for small pioneer wagons in Fighting Caravans they are performing the much harder job of protecting a caravan of huge freight wagons.

'The Covered Wagon' took place in 1848, just before the days of the Forty-Niners; 'Fighting Caravans' takes in the period around 1863, fifteen years later and just before the Civil War.

The pioneers of 'The Covered Wagon' were purely settlers. They had heard of the wonderful new country of California with its gold and free land, and so they put 'hoop skirts' on their little farm wagons, loaded them with the bare necessities and set off across country. All these pioneers cared about was getting across to California safely and with enough implements with which to provide a living. Once in California, their wagons again became farm and industrial vehicles. Many of them struck gold and became extremely rich. They had money with which to buy such luxuries as real cook stoves. They began to settle and wanted saw mills and fire implements. They were too busy taking gold from the ground to go after those things themselves.

It remained for freighters to carry those wants to California, where prices were high, and furniture and other conveniences could be sold at prices that would make a freighter rich on only one shipment. So daring men collected huge wagons, wagons which made the covered wagons look like pigmies, with wheels seven feet high, and, into these wagons packed great cargoes. Each wagon carried tons of material and was drawn by from eight to forty-eight mules and horses.

Imagine the hardships undergone in getting such wagons across rivers, plains and mountains for 1500 miles, after the cargoes were taken off ships in Independence, Mo., and other starting points. When such a wagon struck sloppy ground and bogged down, hours were required to get it out, with as many as forty-eight mules. The cargoes were so valuable that freighters always banded together for protection from Indian raids. Scouts were hired to guide the caravans and fight the Redskins. When Indians attacked such caravans, as they do in 'Fighting Caravans,' they did so in bands of five hundred upward.

The story of 'Fighting Caravans' relates the journey of the first freight caravan out in the spring of 1863. The business was then at its height. There were no railroads (surveying for the road over the Santa Fe Trail, which the wagons in the picture take, had just begun, and wasn't completed until 1884; the railway over the Oregon trail was under way and was completed in 1869).

The Family Album

Let us turn the leaves of our old family album and look at the funny old pictures. There is a picture of the time I fell into the water; Uncle Lonnie fishing; my first swim; the first large fish I ever caught; the time mother took my picture when I came in from playing mud pies looking as though I had rolled in the mud; (she said I could keep it and show it to my children to show just how dirty their mother used to get); dad swimming; and oh, so many more. Many of them are funny and I have changed so much that I laugh.

—Margaret Fisher.

Watch Your Step

Whenever I get on a street car I notice the sign near the door. I read 'Watch Your Step.' It reminds me of the time I ascended the stairs I saw the sign, 'Watch Your Step.' I had no more idea what it was talking about. Just as I stepped into the auditorium I lost my balance and fell flat on my face. It caused a great sound and interrupted the show. The sign had small print at the bottom that read, 'Be careful of a missing step near entrance.' I had not noticed the small print and ignored looking where I was stepping. I was later informed that the floor was unsound and a step was taken out to mend it. I enjoyed the show and I will always remember the sign that read, 'Watch Your Step.'

—Billy Gillis.

A Shadow On The Window

I was in the front room getting my lessons. Mamma was feeling bad and was in the big chair resting. My sister, who completed the group in the room, was writing a letter. Daddy was supposed to come home that night from Austin where he had been on business. Mamma asked me to go get her glasses because she wanted to read. I was scared of the dark then but I went anyway. As I was about to turn on the light, I looked at the door and saw the shadow of a man on the glass. A lump jumped into my throat so that I could not yell and I turned and ran back to the front room. As I was telling them what happened daddy came in laughing and asked me what was the matter and then I knew it was his shadow I saw.

—John Atkinson.

Watch Your Step

One day a man asked me if I wanted to go dove hunting with him. I was tickled to death to go. He came by for me at 3:30. I thought we would never get out to the farm that he had been telling me about. Finally we got there after about an hour's drive. The fellow who owned the farm had just caught three big rattlesnakes and had them in a barrel. He told us to watch our step or a snake would bite us. He said there were more snakes on his farm than anywhere. We went on hunting into the woods. About half an hour later my friend yelled 'watch out.' I looked in front of me and there lay a big rattlesnake. I heard the report of a gun and saw the snake flop over dead.

—Leonard Blaylock.

A Good Loser

Sir Thomas Lipton is the world's greatest loser. He has come to the United States five times to win the yacht races and has lost each time. Each time he lost he came back to try again. Lipton never came to the United States expecting to lose, but when he did lose he was not mad over it. He took it good naturedly and said he would try to win next time. This year he was awarded with a cup and was called the 'World's Greatest Loser.' He claims that he is going to take the victory cup back to England next year.

—Harold Jackson.

The Family Album

Let's take a peep with Jim as he looks through the pages of his family album.

Just look at that hat and that long feather curling around in her face. Isn't it horrible looking? My, how funny they dressed in those days. Oh, look, mother on horseback with one of her girl friends, doesn't she feel proud? Just look, six children on that poor donkey. My goodness.

Oh, here's a picture of grandmother and grandfather when they were young. Aren't they funny looking? Look, grandfather has on short knee pants! Oh goody, a few snapshots, dad is putting a bucket over mother's head!

Aw gee, there's mother calling me to bed, guess I better put it up for tonight.

—Wenonah Shughter.
